

WELCOME TO JAMES RIVER PARK

ABOUT THE PARK

James River Park is a 600-acre natural area located within the City of Richmond and was developed during the 1970s as Richmond residents recognized that the river was a special landscape worthy of restoration, protection, and enjoyment. The park spans both the north and south banks of the James, connecting green spaces from west to east as the river drops from the Piedmont region, through the falls, and into the tidal portion of the James River.

The park comprises multiple forest communities and animal habitats, remnants of America's historic canal system, post-industrial and Civil War sites, Native American archeological sites, and miles of trails and public spaces in the City's Downtown Riverfront. The James River Park System is the largest park within the City of Richmond's park inventory and receives over 2 million visitors per year.
